

Open for business.

You'll discover a computer package that really does the job.

And doing the job is what it's all about. Franklin's ACE Pro is the business system that will increase your office productivity. Because it bundles the powerful ACE 1000 personal computer with versatile word processing and spreadsheet analysis programs.

That's just the beginning. The $1895 package also includes an ACE 10 disk drive and ACE Display 80-column card. And much, much more. For a whole lot less.

What's inside? Outstanding hardware. Like the Franklin ACE™ 1000. With 64K of memory, true upper and lowercase, color graphics capabilities, a typewriter-style keyboard, and a 12-key numeric pad, the ACE 1000 is powerful yet easy to use. What's more, the ACE 1000 is compatible with the 16,000 software programs written for Apple® computers.

Outstanding software. Like ACECalc. A VisiCalc™-compatible spreadsheet analysis program with a full 80-column display of variable column widths. ACECalc allows you to assign "invisible" fields for confidential data. And to protect other fields from being accidentally changed.

And ACEWriter II. A sophisticated word processing program. It's easy to learn, and designed to take advantage of the typewriter-style keyboard and 80-column display of the ACE 1000.

What's in store? Outstanding dealers. Franklin has more than 1,000 authorized dealers throughout the country. Let one help you discover how ACE Pro really does the job.
